

Free2Play: Put play into action

Through its international Free2Play initiative, Not For Sale is harnessing the healing power of play to increase retention and recovery among young survivors of human trafficking. By creating sports camps for young victims of trafficking in Thailand and a unique surfing club for kids in Peru, Not For Sale has witnessed the profound effects of sports on survivor's mental, physical, and emotional health. Not For Sale is dedicating to expanding access to sports while ensuring that everyone, especially survivors of trafficking, know they are free to play.

Wear your heart on your sleeve

Not For Sale has partnered with the Garrobo Active Wear project in El Salvador to produce a new line of Free2Play athletic apparel. The Garrobo project primarily employs at-risk, single mothers and provides them with ongoing vocational training and social services. One hundred percent of the profits from the sale of Free2Play branded athletic apparel will be reinvested in programs for survivors of trafficking. Custom apparel design and printing is available.
